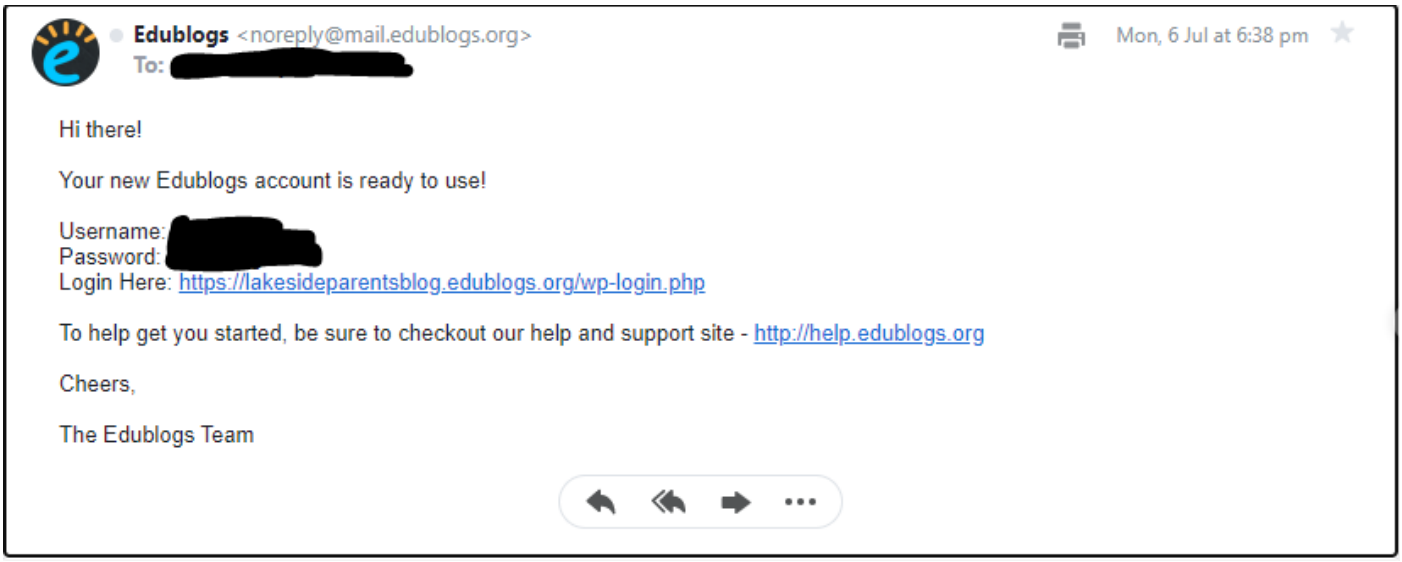
Setting up an account for our Parent's Blog

First, check your email for an email from Edublogs with your account details. The message will have been sent to the email address you have registered with school.

The email will look like the one shown below.



Edublogs <noreply@mail.edublogs.org>
To: [redacted]

Mon, 6 Jul at 6:38 pm

Hi there!

Your new Edublogs account is ready to use!

Username: [redacted]
Password:
Login Here: https://lakesideparentsblog.edublogs.org/wp-login.php

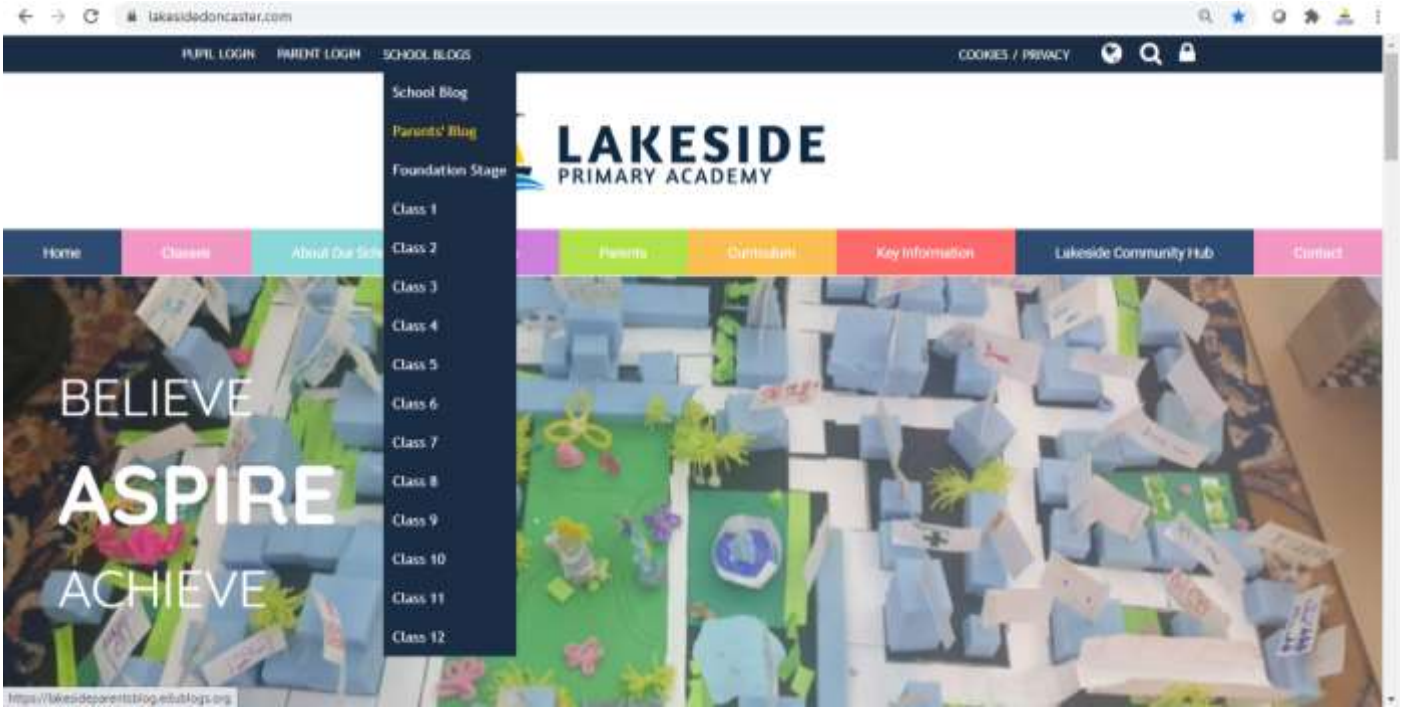
To help get you started, be sure to checkout our help and support site - http://help.edublogs.org

Cheers,

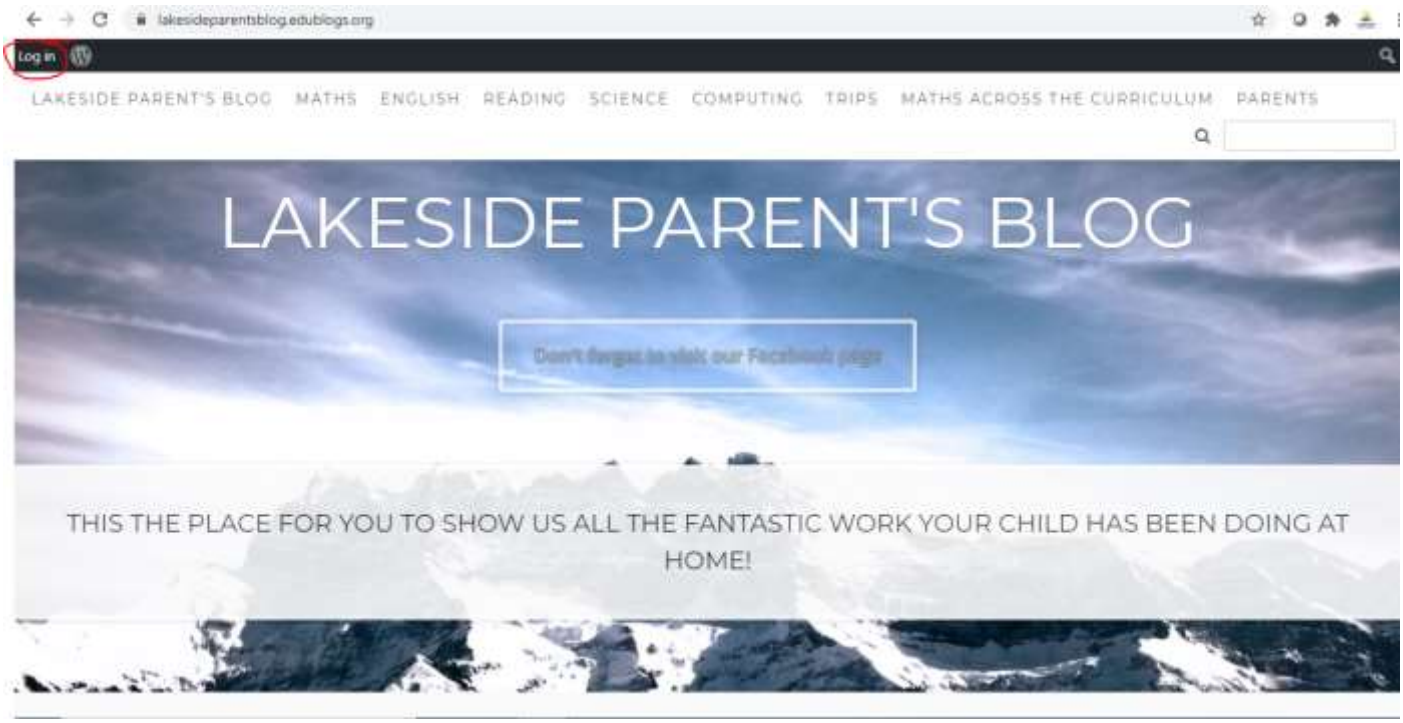
The Edublogs Team

Now that you have your account details, go to our school website, https://www.lakesidedoncaster.com/

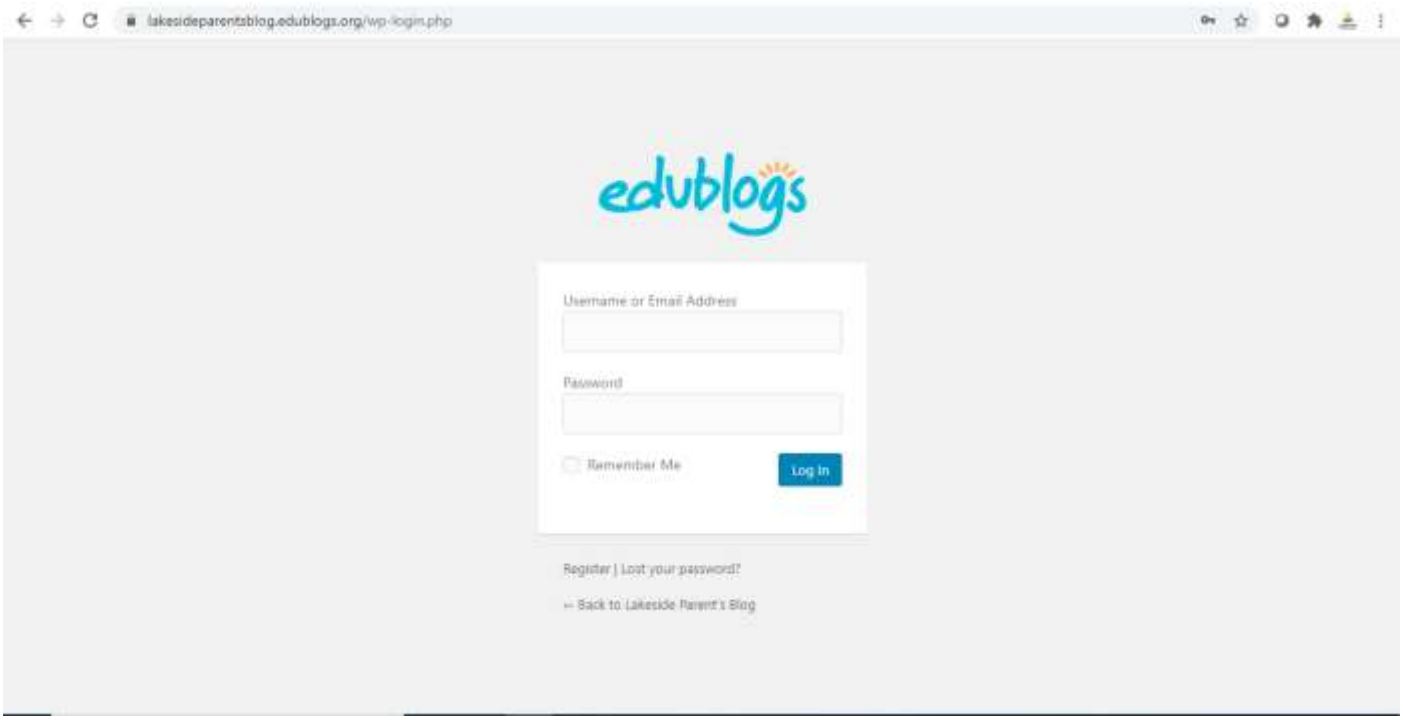
Click on the 'Parent's Blog' link using the 'SCHOOL BLOG' menu.



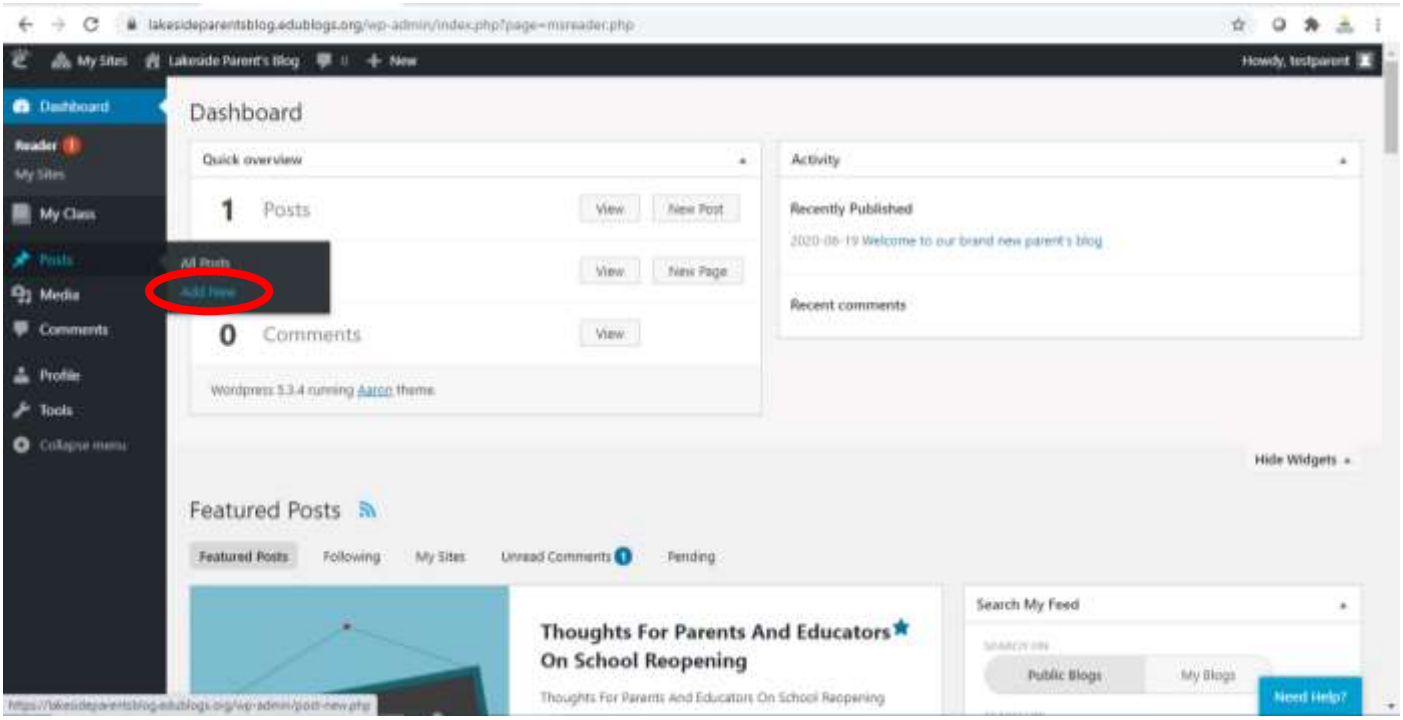
Next, click on the ‘Log in’ button. It is circled in red in the picture below.



Now, you can login to the blog. Enter either your username or your email address in the box that says ‘Username or email address’ and your password in the box that says ‘Password’ then click the Log in button.



Once you have logged in you will see the screen below. The option to create a new post is circled in red.

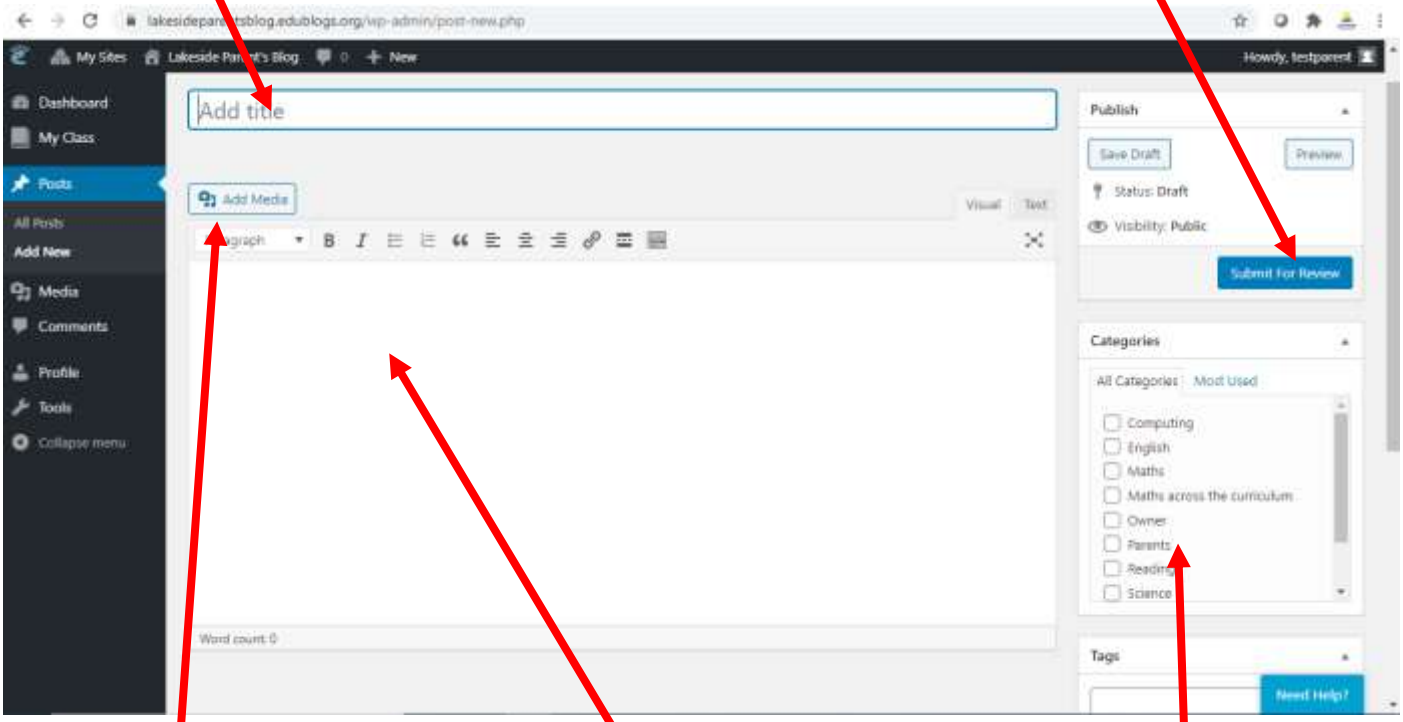


The picture below has notes on what each section of the create a post screen does.

Once you are happy your post is ready click the ‘Submit for review’ button to publish your post.

Add your title here.

Click here to publish your blog post.



Add images using this button.

Type your description here.

Choose the category here.

Select ‘Parents’.